
Riverside Public Library, in conjunction with UCR Writers' Week, presents an afternoon with three exciting new authors

Saturday 7 February 2:00 pm

Noël Alumi

The performance artist who's first novel Letters to Montgomery Clift has been called a novel of endurance and hope.

Ms. Johnson's short-story collection Break any Woman Down won the Flannery O'Connor Award for short fiction

Dana Johnson

Chris Abani

The award-winning poet and novelist whose latest works include the novel Graceland (due out in February) and the book of poetry Daphne's Lot.

Main Library Auditorium
3581 Mission Inn Avenue

This special authors' event is made possible through the generosity of the Friends of the Riverside Library and University of California, Riverside Writers' Week, which is presented through the Department of Creative Writing.

call 826-5369 for information

Cultural Arts Program

Riverside Public Library